

Advertise with DogChannel

The pet market is HOT. There are more pet owners than ever, both in terms of the number of people owning pets and the percentage of U.S. households owning pets. Use of the Internet for dog-related information has grown steadily during the last several years. The convergence of the growing pet ownership market and use of the Internet is why your advertising dollars should be spent with Dog Channel.

Advertising opportunities are available throughout Dog Channel. Dog Channel connects dog owners with the hottest dog products, services and resources on the market.

We're backed by the biggest names in dog magazines, Dog Fancy, Dog World, Dogs in Review and Dogs for Kids.

Dog Channel offers advertisers the opportunity to promote their products and services to the nation's most devoted dog lovers.

Sponsorships are available for specialized areas on Dog Channel, including:
