

Photo Tour of Our Dog-Loving Boat

See where a 120-pound dog eats, sleeps, and spends her days living on a 40-foot boat.

By Carol-Ann Giroday

Most people don't believe us when we say we live on a 40-foot motor yacht with a 120-pound Mastiff onboard. Our Cane Corso Kona came to boating when she was 2 years old and took to it like a duck to water. She helps dig for clams, hikes in the woods, rides with the wind in her ears at the bow of our boat, and loves to swim.

Together we cruise the sea along the Pacific Northwest's Inside Passage from Vancouver to Alaska and the Queen Charlotte Islands. We spend two months in the summer on the water, as well as Christmas holidays and a week during spring break. When not cruising, we are tied to our homeport in the mighty Fraser River in British Columbia, Canada.

Start the slide show below to take a peek aboard our boat, the Sea Foam.

Photographs courtesy Rick LeBlanc