

Petco Stores Nationwide to Host Fashion Shows

Pet supply chain welcomes doggie fashionistas to strut their stuff.

Posted: February 23, 2007, 5 a.m. EST

From booties and bowties to rhinestones and raincoats – fashion-forward pets and their owners are invited by Petco to attend the pet supply chain's first-ever Spring Pet Fashion Shows, taking place March 3 at 2 p.m. at select Petco stores nationwide.

During the event, dogs dressed to impress will strut down Petco's catwalk, showing off the latest pet styles.

The first 20 participants at each store will receive a free Polaroid photo in a special frame and their pets will receive complimentary hors d'oeuvres.

Customers can bring their favorite outfits from home or shop for the latest in doggie designs available at Petco and petco.com.

Customers visiting Petco on the day of the event will also have a chance to buy select spring fashion merchandise, including apparel, collars and carriers, at 25 percent off.

For more information or to locate a store near you, visit www.petco.com