

The DogChannel Newswire (06-28-08)

Remembering pets lost in Kansas tornado; gourmet dog food heats up; and other news.

Posted: June 28, 2008, 5 a.m. EDT

Tails Wag, Tongues Drool for Gourmet Dog Food

With an increasing number of pet owners taking their four-legged friends on the road, hotels throughout North America and Europe are responding with tail-wagging gourmet menus fit for a king, USA Today reports.

Read the article >>

Chapman Residents Remember Pets Lost in Tornado

Pastor Jack Gilstrap, of Abilene's First Baptist Church, will conduct a pet memorial and blessing service at 2 p.m. Sunday to remember pets lost in the tornado that hit Chapman, Kan., on June 11, the Salina Journal (Kansas) reports.

Read the article >>

Mayor to Look at Pit Bull Options After Dog Mauls Girl

After a girl was attacked by a pit bull in Omaha, Neb., the Mayor's Office says that it is looking at several options, including an all-out ban on pit bulls, KPTM-TV Fox News (Nebraska) reports.

Read the article >>

Mandatory Spay-Neuter Law Back in Sacramento

California state legislator is proposing mandatory spay and neuter law, The Mercury News, Silicon Valley, reports.

Read the article >>

Caring for Man's Best Friends

According to some veterinarians and veterinary technicians in Nebraska, there is no such thing as an average day, the La Vista Sun (Nebraska) reports.

Read the article >>