

The DogChannel Newswire (06-30-08)

Baghdad rescue dog tests positive for rabies; interpreting a dog's body language; and other news.

Posted: June 30, 2008, 5 a.m. EDT

How to Let Kids Pet Your Dog

Many people don't recognize the subtle signs of stress in a dog's body language, the Seattle Times reports.

Read the article >>

Humane Society Hopes to Raise $200 for Abused Dog's Test

The Humane Society for Hamilton County seeks funds to determine future healthcare for an abused Lhasa Apso, the Indianapolis Star reports.

Read the article >>

Could Your Pets Be Making You Sick?

Many owners consider their household pets family members, but just like their human counterparts, these animals can spread illnesses to people, 6abc.com reports.

Read the article >>

Summer Safety Tips for Pets

Heat puts dogs and cats at risk, the Camarillo Acorn (California) reports.

Read the article >>

Dog Flown Out of Baghdad Had Rabies

One of the 26 dogs and cats flown out of Iraq to rejoin soldiers in the U.S. has tested positive for rabies, Newsday reports.

Read the article >>