

The DogChannel Newswire (03-14-09)

Dognapped Chihuahua returned to owner; family wants service dog at school; and other news.

Posted: March 14, 2009, 5 a.m. EDT

New York Family Wants Service Dog at School

A New York official has recommended a hearing for a family trying to get a service dog allowed at a Westchester County school, Newsday.com reports.

Read now >>

Dognapped Chihuahua Returned to California Owner

Amid tears and trembling, a Santa Ana teenager and her Chihuahua puppy named Lola have been reunited after the dog was stolen from her boyfriend's truck during a burglary, The Associated Press reports.

Read now >>

Deputy Shoots at Charging Dog After Car Chase

A Snohomish County, Wash., sheriff's deputy shot at a dog Friday after the canine charged the deputy at the end of a car chase with a suspected reckless driver, MSNBC.com reports.

Read now >>

Save-A-Vet Rescues Military Working Dog

A German Shepherd Dog named Alan worked with the vice president and Laura Bush, the Lake County \(Ill.\) News-Sun reports.

Read now >>

Dog Attacks Photo of Swindler Bernie Madoff on TV

It's seems like everyone is outraged at confessed Ponzi-schemer Bernard Madoff for ripping off thousands of investors. Even man's best friend can't stand the sight of the swindler, myfoxphilly.com reports.

Read now >>