

Evanger's 2010 Calendar Seeks Pet Pin-Ups

Camera-friendly cats and dogs can enter to appear on the 75th anniversary calendar.

Posted: April 20, 2009, 5 a.m. EDT

Dog and cat owners interested in seeing their pet's face in a calendar have a chance to enter photos to be considered for the 2010 edition of Evanger's Dog and Cat Food Company annual nationwide pets calendar.

The Wheeling, Ill.-based maker of natural pet food is now accepting pet photographs for the 75th anniversary calendar, which will be offered free at select pet stores nationwide with a purchase of an Evanger's product. The calendar also will be available through the company website when it's released in October.

The deadline to submit photographs is Aug. 31, 2009. Any pet owner is eligible to enter and there are no entry fees. To submit a photo, send the image as an e-mail attachment.

Prizes for winning photos include free dog or cat food.

For complete rules, visit the Evanger's website.