

The DogChannel Newswire (06-05-09)

Poodle survives 30 days in wilderness; Bo steals the show on White House tour; and other news.

Posted: June 5, 2009, 5 a.m. EDT

Dog to Sniff Out Stashes of Cash

A dog primed solely to sniff out criminals' cash has been unveiled by police in the United Kingdom. Rocco, an 18-month-old Cocker Spaniel, will greet people off the local ferry, to sniff out money that may be proceeds of crime, BBC News (U.K.) reports.

Read now >>

White House Tour Is Hot Diggity Dog

A tour guide was trying to usher a group of Major League Baseball players along the south colonnade of the White House so they could peek through the window of the Oval Office, but nobody would budge because a beloved member of President Obama's family was posing for photos. It was Bo, the new first dog, the San Francisco Chronicle reports.

Read now >>

Jon Gosselin's Two Pups Are 'Loyal Creatures'

As the paparazzi continue to hound the troubled Gosselins of TLC's "Jon & Kate Plus 8," Jon knows he can count on man's best friend to watch his back. In addition to being the father of 8-year-old twins and 5-year-old sextuplets, he's also in charge of two German Shepherd Dog puppies, Shoka and Nala, People reports.

Read now >>

Small Dog Survives 30 Days in Wyoming Wilderness

Tequila, a 10-year-old Miniature Poodle, recently spent more than 30 days in the Wyoming wilderness, braving cold temperatures and snow and fending off a slew of predators, The Windsor (Colo.) Beacon reports.

Read now >>

Oregon Bill Aimed at 'Puppy Mills'

The governor of Oregon has promised to sign a bill that attempts to control "puppy mills" by limiting the number of dogs breeders can have. Under the measure that passed the legislature Tuesday, breeders would be able to keep no more than 50 breeding dogs, United Press International reports.

Read now >>