

Events Launch Dog Clothing Line, Boarding Facility

Two upcoming Southern California dog events will celebrate the launch of a couture dog clothing line and a full-service boarding facility.

Posted: March 29, 2007, 5 a.m. EST

Los Angeles is known for bringing out the red carpet for dogs, but two cities not far away are holding their own gala events.

On March 31, The Majestical Roof in Pasadena will host the Next Top Dog Runway Show from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. At the free event, which is open to the public, new dog clothing designer Christina Bernal will launch Flea Bag Clothing.

Exhibits will include dog jewelry, collars, leashes, toys, food, treats and bedding. Actor James Duvall will host.

The Majestical Roof is at 88 N. Fair Oaks #102, Pasadena. For more information, call (626) 844-8886.

Also on March 31, K9s Only boarding facility will host a grand opening celebration in Tarzana at 7 p.m. Dog trainer Bobby Dorafshar will show the full-service care options to new and current clientele.

K9s Only, which also provides basic and advanced obedience training, will have a wellness center offering dog massages, water rehabilitation, weight management, acupressure and Reiki, a non-invasive form of hands-on healing.

Celebrities expected to appear on the red carpet include Michelle Strafford of "The Young and the Restless," Janel Moloney ("West Wing"), Patricia Kara (NBC's "Deal or No Deal"), Debra Wilson Skelton ("Mad TV") and Galen Gering ("Passions").

For more information, visit www.k9sonly.com.