

Dog Food Recall Updates

As developments occur, stay informed about current dog food recalls.

Bravo Pig Ear Recall

Bravo of Vernon, Conn., is voluntarily recalling pig ear chews due to salmonella concerns (5/31/11)

More Pig Ears Recalled Due to Salmonella Concerns

Another pet product company is recalling its pig ear treats for dogs after a supplier, detected salmonella in one of its batches. (5/18/11)

BREAKING NEWS RECALL: Pet First Aid Kits

Bacterial contamination prompts recall of prep pads in pet first aid kits. (5/11/11)

Salmonella Concerns Prompt Pig Ear Recall

Keys Manufacturing Co. Inc., recalls its Pig Ears for Pet Treats because the product may be contaminated with salmonella. (5/4/11)

Potential Salmonella Prompts Dog Treat Recall

Merrick Pet Care is recalling its Jr. Texas Taffy dog treat due to potential salmonella contamination. (2/1/11)

Possibility of Mold Prompts Dry Dog Food Recall

Wysong recalls several maintenance and senior dry dog food varieties. (10/16/09)

Melted Plastic Prompts Puppy Food Recall

Nutro voluntarily recalls select puppy foods due to discovery in its production line. (10/9/09)

Maker of Baked Dog Treats Issues Recall

American Health Kennels Inc. voluntarily recalls dog treats following peanut paste recall. (2/23/09)

More Dog Treats Added to Peanut Butter Recall List

Products contain peanut paste supplied by Georgia facility under investigation (2/13/09).

Oregon Confirms First Salmonella Case in Dog

State public health officials say peanut butter dog biscuits contaminated (2/12/09).

Supervalu Recalls Dog Biscuits

Recalled dog biscuits add to list of products affected by contaminated peanut butter (2/9/09).

Maker of Rawhide Dog Chews Adds to Recall List

Rawhide treats contain peanut butter made by Peanut Corp. of America (2/2/09).

Two More Peanut Butter Dog Treats on Recall List

Voluntary measure taken as precaution after nationwide Salmonella outbreak (1/29/09).

Peanut Butter Dog Biscuit Recall List Expands

Shaw's Supermarkets dog biscuit products have "potential to be contaminated" (1/26/09).

Dog Owners Warned of Recalled Peanut Butter

ASPCA advises against peanut butter products that may contain Salmonella (1/23/09).

Pet Store Recalls Dog Biscuits With Peanut Paste

Potential Salmonella contamination prompts voluntary recall of dog biscuits (1/21/09).

Company Expands Voluntary Pet Food Recall

Dry cat and dog food recalled due to potential Salmonella contamination (11/26/08).

Kroger Asks Owners to Check for Recalled Dog Food

Supermarket chain's pet food recall reminder targets North Texas and Louisiana (11/22/08).

Pet Food Maker Closes Plant After Voluntary Recall

Mars Petcare US to stop production of food at a facility involved in Salmonella scares (10/3/08).

Potential Contamination Spurs Dry Pet Food Recall

Recall affects 31 states and includes more than 10 dog food brands (9/18/08).

Dog Food Company Recalls Dry Food Products

Company cites "potential contamination" in national dry dog food recall (9/13/08).

Dog Food Maker Updates Limited Recall List

Company reports there have been no reports of illness (8/14/08).

Dog Food Maker Issues Limited Recall

Salmonella concerns spur recall in Southern California; no reports of illness at this time (8/11/08).

Court Gives Preliminary OK in Pet Food Recall Case

$24 million settlement fund allows pet owners to recover economic damages (6/4/08).

$24 Million Settlement in Pet Food Recall Case

The deal requires food companies in the recall to pay pet owners for documented expenses (5/28/08).

Settlement Reached in Dog Food Recall

Mediation involving Menu Foods yields a comprehensive agreement that is still subject to approval (4/3/08).

Companies, Executives Indicted in Dog Food Recall

Businesses are charged with intentionally mislabeling food that contained poisonous ingredients in last year's dog food recall (2/8/08).

Deadly Combo Culprit in Dog Food Recall

More evidence suggests the combination of melamine and cyanuric acid was responsible for kidney failure in pets (11/27/07).

Chemical Combination Culprit in Recalled Dog and Cat Food

Researchers say the two chemicals are harmless alone, but result in rapid kidney failure when ingested together (11/14/07).

President Bush Endorses FDA Recall Power

The proposed plan would grant the FDA new authority to recall human and pet food products (11/8/07).

Castleberry's Dog Food Recall Continues

Despite FDA warnings, several of Castleberry's recalled dog food products remain on store shelves (8/1/07).

Risk of Botulism Poisoning Prompts Dog Food Recall

Castleberry's dog food recall includes Natural Balance Eatable varieties (7/25/07).

Dog Food Recall Slows Down, FDA Continues Investigations

Much of the hype surrounding the dog food recall has quieted, but the FDA continues to investigate (6/28/07).

Salmonella Suspected in Latest Dog Food Recall

Due to possible Salmonella contamination, some of Wal-Mart's Ol'Roy dry food has been added to the dog food recall (6/7/07).

Cross-Contamination Forces Diamond Dog Food Recall

Diamond Pet Foods expands dog food recall due to cross-contamination (5/24/07).

More Dog Food Recalled

One dog food and a cat food were left off a previous recall list (5/24/07).

Chenango Valley Expands Dry Dog Food Recall

After an initial recall, Chenango Valley expands its dog food recall due to possible cross-contamination (5/19/07).

Royal Canin Adds Product to Dog Food Recall

14 Royal Canin products are being added to the list of recalled dog food (5/15/07).

DOG FOOD RECALL: Wheat Flour to Blame

Contaminated flour, not gluten or protein concentrate, sickened dogs, leading to dog food recall (5/11/07).

SmartPak Suspends Production of Dog Food Brand

Dog food maker SmartPak is suspending production of one brand due to presence of melamine, the tainted ingredient in the dog food recall (5/5/07).

More Than 200 Foods Added to Dog Food Recall List

The dog food recall list of contaminated products expands by more than 200 after testing indicated cross-contamination (5/4/07).

Diamond Pet Foods and Canine Caviar Added to Dog Food Recall

Six canned foods from two different companies have now been added to the dog food recall list of potentially contaminated products (4/27/07).

Chenango Valley Added to Dog Food Recall

Products could be tainted with melamine, the suspect contaminant in the dog food recall (4/27/07).

Pet Owners Confused About Dog Food Recall

Petco study reveals pet owners are concerned, confused about what to feed their dogs in light of the dog food recall (4/25/07).

SmartPak Products Added to Dog Food Recall

A production run of LiveSmart Weight Management Chicken & Brown Rice is now on the dog food recall list (4/24/07).

Royal Canin Dry Food Added to Dog Food Recall

Varieties of Royal Canin dry dog foods have been added to the dog food recall after melamine was found in its rice protein concentrate (4/20/07).

Dog Food Recall Toxin May Have Been Intentional

The suspect ingredient in the dog food recall may have been used to increase protein content, FDA says (4/20/07).

Additional Product Added to Dog Food Recall List

A vegetarian dog food has now been added to the dog food recall list of potentially contaminated products (4/18/07).

Dog Food Recall Expands to Wheat-Free Products

While wheat-free foods are now included in the dog food recall, melamine is still the prime suspect (4/18/07).

T.W. Enterprises Recalls Dog Chews

Products, including small to jumbo dog chews, could be contaminated with Salmonella. (4/17/07)

Natural Balance Under Dog Food Recall

Venison & Brown Rice dry dog food now on dog food recall list. (4/17/07)

Senators Grill Pet Industry on Dog Food Recall

Hearing on the dog food recall calls for greater regulation of the pet food industry (4/12/07).

Recalled Dog Food Might Remain on Shelves

FDA warns that not all stores are complying with the dog food recall (4/13/07).

What You Can Do About the Dog Food Recall

Veterinarian offers guidelines for owners concerned about the dog food recall (4/9/07).

Senate Will Hear Testimony on Dog Food Recall

Hearing will probe the FDA's response to the dog food recall (4/11/07).

Tips to Avoid Contaminated Dog Foods

A veterinary specialist gives advice to owners concerned about the dog food recall (4/7/07).

Dog Food Recall Expands

Sunshine Mills recalls treats, Menu Foods expands dog food recall list (4/7/07).

Dog Food Recall Product List Expands

Sunshine Mills recalls treats, Menu Foods expands dog food recall list (4/6/07).

Dog Food Recall Haunts Owners

Feeding habits change, nerves jangle as a result of massive dog food recall (4/5/07).

Dog Food Recall Update: FDA Bans Chinese Company's Wheat Gluten

Imports halted of ingredient that may have led to dog food recall (4/4/07).

Del Monte, Nestle Purina Recall Dog Food

Due to concerns about tainted wheat gluten, Del Monte and Nestle Purina have chosen to recall dog food (4/3/07).

Salmonella Contamination Forces Dog Treat Recall

Eight In One begins dog treat recall after lab testing found Salmonella in chicken jerky treats (4/2/07).

New Toxin Found in Recalled Dog Food

FDA and Menu Foods say a plastic, not rat poison, was in tainted ingredient in recalled dog food (3/30/07).

Rat Poison May Not Be Only Dog Food Recall Culprit

ASPCA suggests other contaminants may be behind the dog food recall (3/29/07).

Dog Food Recall Expands

Menu Foods products of all manufacture dates are now part of dog food recall (3/24/07).

Rat Poison Blamed for Dog Food Recall

In latest development in dog food recall, N.Y. State Department of Agriculture and Markets says lab tests discovered rat poison (3/23/07).

Cause of Dog Illnesses Unknown in Dog Food Recall

Class-action lawsuits are being filed against Menu Foods in response to the dog food recall (3/23/07).

Advice for Dog Owners About Dog Food Recall

American Veterinary Medical Association offers guidance for owners potentially affected by the dog food recall (3/22/07).

Pouch, Canned Dog Foods Recalled

Manufacturer is running tests due to complaints of animal sicknesses, deaths (3/20/07).