

The Dog Channel Newswire

Stay up to date with the latest dog news.

Family Livid Over Tax On Barking DoorbellThe Brintjes family made worldwide headlines when the Dutch government ordered them to pay a tax on a barking doorbell, ABC News International reports.

Read the article

Dog Lovers Cry Foul Over Tough Adoption PoliciesRescue groups often ask potential adopters to submit to probing interviews, sign contracts and open their homes for inspections, reports The New York Times. Critics say the arbitrary rules limit options for homeless animals.

Read the article

New Poop Scooper Targets Unpopular ChoreA Northern Ireland company has developed a new cartridge-style poop scooper that sticks it to dog waste, according to the BBC News.

Read the article

Dog Lovers Drool Over William Wegman RetrospectivePopular artist William Wegman, whose iconic artwork captures his photogenic Weimaraners, showcases over 300 pieces in a retrospective entitled Funney/Strange at New York City's Brooklyn museum, according to the Voice of America. Read the article Rescuers Pull Dog From Icy Maine RiverChamp, a 13-year-old Golden Retriever, wandered away from his yard and onto thin ice in Maine, according to the Bangor Daily News. A passerby saw the dog splashing in the water, sparking a rescue that involved two towns firefighters.

Read the article

Posted: March 24, 2006, 5 a.m. EST