

The Dog Channel Newswire

Stay up to date with the latest dog news.

Univ. of Wash. Alumni: Where's the Husky?The state of Washington has removed the much-maligned Univ. of Washington Huskies logo from its special collegiate license plate, reports The Seattle Times. Detractors say the logo, which the school has no plans to change, looks nothing like a Siberian Husky or Alaskan Malamute.

Read the article

World's Ugliest Dog Contest Set For JuneThe 18th Annual Worlds Ugliest Dog Contest at the Sonoma-Marín Fair in Petaluma, Calif., is set for June 23. Last years winner, Lil Sam, a now-deceased 14-year-old Chinese Crested, made headlines around the world.

Read the article

Firefighters Save, Resuscitate DachshundFirefighter Kathy Elsaesser rushed into the burning Lakeland, Fla. home of Venita Richardson and found the womans beloved Dachshund, Sebastian, barely breathing and huddled under a pile of clothes, according to The Ledger. Luckily, firefighter Mark Olivenbaum was on hand to administer doggie CPR.

Read the article

Dog Vanishes After Traffic AccidentTruck driver Richard Jones mixed breed, Penny, has been by his side for more than two years as they criss-crossed the country for work. But when Jones truck overturned on an Illinois highway, Penny ran off. Rescuers reunited the pair thanks to a microchip, reports the Journal Gazette and Times-Courier. Read the article Superbug May Pass From Humans To PetsA large Philadelphia veterinary hospital reports that 38 animals caught drug-resistant staph infections over a 3-year period, reports The Charlotte Observer. Scientists say six of the animals caught the stubborn superbug from hospital workers who had close contact with the pets.

Read the article

Posted: March 25, 2006, 5 a.m. EST