

The DogChannel Newswire

Stay up-to-date with the latest dog news from all around the country (05-07-07).

Posted: May 7, 2007, 5 a.m. EST

Gene Makes Racing Dogs Fast, Study Finds

A gene that helps control muscle development makes all the difference between an elite racing dog and slower dog, Reuters reports.

Read the article >>

Butcher Aims to Offer Ground Dog Food Following Pet Food Recall

A Pennsylvania butcher says his shop will be offering a raw ground dog food, with no added ingredients, the Associated Press reports.

Read the article >>

Community Reaches Out to Pay Dog's Medical Bills

A chocolate Labrador Retriever is undergoing extensive treatment at North Carolina State University after being hit by a car, News14.com in North Carolina reports.

Read the article >>

Man Charged with Shooting Dog with Bow and Arrows

Charges were filed against the man who called in to report finding a dog that survived being shot at least three times with a bow and arrows, WATE-TV in Knoxville, Tenn., reports.

Read the article >>

Handler Charged in Attack by Dog

The caretaker of a Pit-Bull mix accused of breaking free from his leash and attacking a horse and rider has been charged with failing to control the animal, The Cleveland Plain Dealer reports.

Read the article >>