

The DogChannel Newswire (10-06-07)

Stay up-to-date with the latest dog news from all around the country.

Posted: October 6, 2007, 5 a.m. EST

The Dog Who Couldn't Bark

A dog left tied to a veterinary clinic's door had a rare muscular disease that, though it's normally treatable, went untreated for so long that his jaw fused shut, The Baltimore Sun reports.

Read the article >>

Neighbor Rescues Nearly-Drowned Dog From Bathtub

A California man who allegedly tried to drown one of his dogs was charged with a felony count of animal cruelty. A neighbor rescued the dog, administered mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and took him to a veterinary hospital, FOX News Los Angeles reports.

Read the article >>

Landscaping With Your Dogs in Mind

Dog experts say dogs and well-crafted yards can coexist, it just takes some planning, patience and dedication, The Houston Chronicle reports.

Read the article >>

Read to a Dog Program Returns to Wisconsin Library

The program pairs therapy dogs with children who may be self-conscious about their reading skills in an effort to improve literacy, Oshkosh Northwestern (Wisconsin) reports.

Read the article >>

High-Wire Act Saves Dog Who Was Trapped for Hours

A hunting dog was trapped on a rock formation for 36 hours after he chased a raccoon. Firefighters used repelling gear to rescue the dog, The New Philadelphia Times-Reporter reports.

Read the article >>