

The DogChannel Newswire (11-15-07)

Stay up-to-date with the latest dog news from all around the country.

Posted: November 15, 2007, 5 a.m. EST

Man Bit by Police Dog Seeks $1 Million

A man who was bitten in the groin by a police dog has filed a claim against the city of Boise, Idaho, asking for at least $1 million in damages, KTVB-TV reports.

Read the article >>

Coffee Craze Goes to the Dogs

It might look like a nice cup of cappuccino, but a Phoenix company's new concoction is strictly for the dogs. The "Doggy Java" is a vitamin drink that comes in a coffee bag, looks like coffee and comes with a "Bonescotti," The Business Journal of Phoenix reports.

Read the article >>

Dogs Rescued From Virginia Kennel Arrive in New York

Close to 1,000 dogs were recently rescued from poor living conditions at a Virginia kennel; 130 of those dogs arrived in New York and will soon be available for adoption, Newsday reports.

Read the article >>

Pet Massacres Carried Out in Puerto Rico

After news last month that live animals had been thrown to their deaths from a bridge in Puerto Rico, an Associated Press investigation reveals that the inhumane treatment may be far beyond even what animal welfare activists suspected, the Associated Press reports.

Read the article >>

Strays Get Luxury Treatments in Hopes of Finding Homes

Stray dogs who were found with matted hair and covered with fleas get makeovers in hopes of finding them permanent homes, The Boston Herald reports.

Read the article >>