

The DogChannel Newswire (12-18-07)

Stay up-to-date with the latest dog news from all around the country.

Posted: December 18, 2007, 5 a.m. EST

Good Boy: Estate Planning for Dogs Gains in Popularity

Worried about what will happen to your pets after you're gone? Estate lawyers have it all figured out, The Wall Street Journal reports.

Read the article >>

It's No Longer a Dog's World

There is a tired line that if a politician wants a friend in Washington, he should get a dog. That advice may need some rethinking, (especially for the dog), with the bizarre stories that continue to surface about the Republican candidates and their troubled relations with the canine community, The New York Times reports.

Read the article >>

Take Better Care of Your Dog in 2008

The new year is approaching. You're going to go to the gym, eat right, apply for a new job. But what are you going to do for your best friends? Here's a list of resolutions to make on behalf of your dog, The Dallas Morning News reports.

Read the article >>

Fleas' Journey into Vacuum Is One-Way Trip

Scientists have determined that vacuuming kills fleas in all stages of their lives, with an average of 96 percent success in adult fleas and 100 percent destruction of younger fleas, Science Daily reports.

Read the article >>

New Dog Aids Officers in Cases, Brings Smiles to Faces

A new dog from Holland is bringing Dutch lingo into a California police department and boosting morale among officers, the San Jose (Calif.) Mercury News reports.

Read the article >>