

Dog Spa Product Company Seeks Model

Cain & Able Collection is searching for America's "hautest hound."

Posted: March 27, 2008, 5 a.m. EST

Winner of the 2007 model search, Zoe. Cain & Able Collection of Austin, Texas, has launched its 3rd Annual Haute Dog Super Model Search, with the winning dog slated to be the star of the company's 2008 Christmas campaign.

The dog spa product company also offers prizes for other categories, including celebrity look-alikes, cutest puppies, most spoiled, most patriotic, best kisser, best Hollywood glamour shot, best dressed, and best costume.

"Each year we have hundreds of submissions," said Candace Smith, company president. "It is definitely the most popular and fun promotion that we do every year."

The company is accepting photos and bios of the dogs on its website (www.CainAndAbleCollection.com), which also lists the contest's rules. Deadline for the submissions is June 1, 2008, and winners will be announced June 15.