

Treat Your Dog

Cookbook for dogs feature 50 mouth-wateringly good recipes and ideas for fun dog parties.

Posted: March 24, 2008, 5 a.m. EST

Looking for a reason to throw a party? Look no further. "The Good Treats Cookbook for Dogs" has 50 recipes for home-cooked goodies that will have you itching to try them out. Author Barbara Burg has been baking for dogs for almost 15 years, and is owner of Canine Catering and the Canine Café in Charlotte, N.C. She knows good dog food.

Is your dog hungry for a pre-dinner snack? Try the Spinach Quiche Yap-paw-tizers or Salmon Arf-d'Oeuvres. Is he a vegetarian? Feed him a Vegetarian Pizza or some Veggie Bites. In the mood for dessert? Test out a Doggie Daiquiri or a slice of the Apple Crunch Cake.

In addition to the mouthwatering dishes – Mini Meat Loaf with Tomato Herb Sauce, anyone? – Burg also includes advice about how to throw the pawfect canine party. From guest lists to party games, Burg has all your bases covered. For the latter, one of Burg's suggestions is Owner-Doggie Dress-Alike, a challenge that is sure to add howls of laughter to any event. A Resources section in the back of the book provides a list of useful stores and websites to help you find great dog products.

"The Good Treats Cookbook for Dogs" is on sale now.