

How to Create a Dog Disaster Kit

DogChannel shows you how to assemble a disaster kit for your dog.

Include the following items in a sturdy container and store in an easy-to-access location next to your canine first-aid kit. Leash and collar or harness. Several bottles of water. Collapsible bowl. Several-day supply of food and treats, plus information on eating habits and food allergies. Medication in a waterproof container, with information on dosage and frequency. Cleanup supplies (plastic bags, paper towels, and chlorine bleach). Copies of important veterinary records (vaccination records and information on existing medical conditions). Copies of registration information (adoption papers, proof of purchase, microchip, or other identification information). List of emergency contacts (friends or relatives, veterinarian's contact information, and listings of nearby pet-friendly hotels). Recent photographs of you and your dog with her breed, age, sex, and color written on the back. Duplicate of a toy she enjoys. - See more dog videos -