

Puppy Potty Schedules

Whether you work all day, all night, part time, or from home, there's a proposed schedule to satisfy you and your new puppy.

Keeping a puppy on a regular schedule not only makes things easier on the owners, but can also help speed up housetraining. Let's look at some suggested relief time schedules for puppies. These time frames are not written in stone. Always be flexible enough to adapt your potty and exercise times to satisfy both you and your new puppy. Select the scenario that most closely represents your situation for a list of suggested potty breaks.

Owner at home all day Owner works all day Owner works nights Owner works part time

Reprinted from House-training Your Dog © 2005. Permission granted by Kennel Club Books, an imprint of BowTie Press.

To find a sample full-day schedule for a new puppy's meals, training sessions, and more, click here.